CULTURE SUGGESTIONS

Work soil at least 18 inches deep; use liberal amount of well decayed manure. Cow manure is best. Use sprinkling of lime and bone; Soak seed in water for about 24 hours or until swelled up and then plant about 1½ to 2 inches deep in a well firmed soil that is good and moist, but not sticky. (DO NOT SOAK WHITE SEEDED VARIETIES).

In recent years a copper oxide preparation has frequently been dusted on sweet pea seeds to prevent damping off, the same proving very satisfactory. This can be procured at most seed stores under various names. Inoculation of seed is also highly successful.

Peas will not do well in too loose a soil. Plant one inch apart and later thin to about six inches. Do not water until seeds have begun to germinate. After germination has taken place give good soaking. MOST FAILURES ARE CAUSED BY WATERING BEFORE SEED HAS SPROUTED. If weather is hot use some kind of shading. Protect young plants from birds outdoors. Look for Green Aphids regularly as this insect is the worst enemy. Spraying with nicotine, one part nicotine to 400 parts water with spray gun is best. There are also many other good insecticides which are excellent for the control of Aphids. Give young plants substantial supports in order that they may climb and produce good flowers. Poor flowers with crooked stems are worthless. Liquid manure feeding after they come in bloom will lengthen the flowering period and produce better flowers. Pick all flowers as this also lengthens the flowering period. Always keep the surface earth loose and never allow a crust to form. If grown indoors keep ventilators open to keep the air as dry as possible. A house that is kept damp and sultry will cause too much growth and the sweet peas will not bloom as soon as they should, and then will begin to bloom too high up. Early sweet peas usually bloom from 75 to 100 days after seed is planted.

Facts About Zvolanek's Early Flowering Long Stem Sweet Peas and Late Summer Flowering Sweet Peas

Many growers are mis-informed about the Early and Late Flowering Sweet Peas.

The Early, also known as Winter Flowering or Early Orchid Flowering, grow straight up and branch from the main growth. After planting the seed, they should blossom in about 75 days. This type can be planted any time during the year, summer or winter, conditions permitting. During extremely hot weather, cheese cloth shading should be used to avoid the mid-day sun and heat. The above is the type of sweet peas we grow and are the best for all around use.

The Summer or Late Flowering Sweet Peas have a heavy growth and branch at the ground, not on the main growth like the Early Type. Vine growth is heavy and vigorous. This type will absolutely not bloom in the fall or winter months, but only in the spring. They should be planted from November through January for best results. If Planted too late they may not bloom at all, making only heavy vines. This is the difference between the two types and we trust the facts above will explain same.

Again thanking you for all past favors and trusting that we may again serve you with the best sweet pea seeds in existence, we are

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM ZVOLANEK & CO.
